

Special Concern

One July day in 2018, the respected Comrade Kim Jong Un visited the Samjiyon Potato Farina Factory and learned about the operation of boiler and the amount of steam production.

Originally, steam production was the most knotty problem for its officials in running the factory.

Kim Jong Un, who had already acquainted himself with such situation, specified the issue of building a new Korean-style boiler.

When an official of the factory told him that the boiler was working properly, he was very satisfied and made his way to the boiler.

After looking into the firebox with pleasure, he said to the accompanying officials: How nice it is to install a boiler made by ourselves with our indigenous design and technology to meet the practical situation of our country. This is precisely our style.
