

Most Important Source of the Country

One May day in 2020, the respected Comrade Kim Jong Un visited a newly-built factory.

Expressing satisfaction at the fact that teachers and researchers of Kim Chaek University of Technology, in cooperation with relevant units, have established a wonderful integrated production system in the factory, he said that talents are the great source of the country and the motive force for its development and that the training of talents is the policy issue to which the Workers' Party of Korea has attached high priority.

He stressed: We should conduct the training of talents in a far-sighted way as required by the developing reality. If we are short of talents, we cannot manage and develop the economy in a long-term and strategic way.

We should train talents systematically to be the backbones of the country. The education sector should set a correct goal for training many talents and strengthen the educational work.
